Gitmo Terrorists Coming to Florence?

by Candy Thompson

You would have to look far and wide to find any resident or elected official of Cañon City or Florence who would be happy with President Obama's plan to transfer terrorist prisoners to Fremont County from Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. Congressman Scott Tipton and Senator Cory Gardner have issued strong statements against such action and Congressman Doug Lamborn has released the following statement in response to reports that DOD officials are investigating sites in Colorado as potential destinations for Guantanamo Bay terrorists:

"Despite House passage of an NDAA that strictly prohibits the transfer of terrorists from Guantanamo Bay, the Obama Administration is instructing DOD officials to come and investigate the Federal Supermax facility in Florence and a Colorado penitentiary facility in Cañon City as potential destinations for terrorists. It is outrageous and unacceptable for President Obama to waste time and taxpayer dollars on a dangerous fantasy that will go nowhere. The people of Colorado do not want the world's worst terrorists housed in our own backyard and we will not stand for this. I will do everything in my power to resist these unlawful terrorist transfers from taking place."

Most everyone voiced concern over the attraction that such prisoners may cause to undesirable elements on the outside who may come to this area. The Guantanamo Bay war prisoners are not privileged under the United States legal system, but if transferred would be treated with those rights on U.S. soil. President Obama says he is going to do everything possible to close Gitmo, a campaign promise he made that he seems determined to fulfill, regardless of the consequences to the citizens of our country.

The Fremont County Commissioners claim it's bad business in a letter they plan to send to President Obama. They told the Denver Post in a recent interview that we are finally seeing some positive economic development and Fremont County cannot stand the financial impact this would have.

Timme Pearson, president of Royal Gorge Republican Women, sent an impassioned email urging everyone to flood their elected officials with letters, etc.:

"...not only will we have those terrorists here, but

Commissioners Work to Balance 2016 Budget

by Paul Sage

After two intense days of department by department, line by line, reviews of the proposed 2016 Custer County budget, commissioners still came up short of arriving at a balanced budget for the year without dipping into reserves.

Each department head sat before the Board of County Commissioners over October 13th and 14th to explain proposed budget expenditures and to help whittle away any expenditure that would not jeopardize the health or safety of county residents. At the end of the sessions, the search for $400,000 in cuts to the proposed six million dollar budget yielded nearly $300,000 in cuts.

The only big winner in the budget process was the District Attorney's office, which received an overdue nine percent increase in payment for services rendered to the county. This brings proposed payment to the DA's office to $90,382. Long outspent by the Public Defender's office, the proposed increase will hopefully help level the playing field in court and allow the DA to prosecute more cases successfully.

Another winner of sorts in the budget process was Obamacare, which caused insurance premiums for county employees to jump substantially again this year adding to the already heavy insurance burden on county taxpayers to pay for this program.

Some of the larger department budget cuts were over $121,000 to the Road and Bridge Department and nearly $91,000 cut from the Sheriff's Department budget. In addition, with their budgets not finalized, it remains to be seen whether the towns of Westcliffe and Silver Cliff will approve the amounts requested for law enforcement in their respective towns. Westcliffe has been requested to contribute $32,000 for law enforcement, up $2,000 from their 2015 contribution, and Silver Cliff has been requested to contribute $10,000, which is double their 2015 contribution.

Silver Cliff, which is geographically much larger, and requiring about the same amount of law enforcement, has never paid an equal amount for the service because of their lack of revenue. The town has also recently discussed using taxpayer money to pay for a ballot initiative to legalize marijuana grows and retail outlets in the town, pay trustees and the mayor a wage, and to allocate taxpayer money to send town officials to a marijuana symposium in Denver. Hopefully, this indicates there will be no financial shortfall to paying at least this small request for law enforcement to keep their citizens safe.

Our Opinion...

From the Editorial Board

THE STATE OF THE UNION: ARE YOU CONCERNED YET?

We certainly don't need Barack Obama to tell us early next year how strong and powerful the Union is. According to serving presidents, it's always that way regardless of the facts. They can only be truthful in their very first year because any weaknesses would belong to the previous administration. After that it's on them -- usually. However, President Obama has repeatedly blamed President Bush for all of America's troubles for almost seven years now. A President Trump might be an exception to the norm. Can you imagine what he might say in a State of the Union (SOTU) address? Truth would be a most welcome change. The current SOTU was revealed to us in last week's Democrat debate on CNN. The clear overall theme was for leading America much further down the path to total socialism. According to four of the five candidates (Webb was out of place) the government is here to help us. Ronald Reagan warned us about governments being around to help out. The more they "help" the more we suffer. The bigger government gets the more intrusive it becomes. These Democrat candidates for president should provide us much concern for America's future. They spent most of the debate telling us about all the free stuff they want to give us. We know most of you have heard some of the things they offered but we think you should really look at and analyze what they offered. The "freebies" list included free public college, paid family leave, free health care for adults and children, in-state tuition for illegals, Obamacare subsidies for illegals, expanded Medicare for all Americans, higher minimum wages, free prescription drugs, expanded Social Security, and lower interest rates on student loans. And this is just a partial bag of goodies they have in mind. Can you imagine the cost of such things? "Free" to whom? And remember when a congressman yelled out "you lie" to Obama when he was assuring us Obamacare wouldn't apply to illegals. Well, it's now on their list. The Democrats have decided to come "out of the closet" and be openly socialist. Senator Sanders is the only honest one. He actually claims to be a democratic socialist, whatever that is. We believe a socialist is just a plain, old socialist and socialism will destroy us that socialism doesn't tion. Many believe that liberal, progressive thinking and governing in America is harmful. Add socialism in to their behavior and it's fatal. When "We The People" let the government takeover our lives com-sure of the earth (our own excepted) in their military chest; with a Bonaparte for a commander, could not by force, take a drink from the Ohio, or make a track on the Blue Ridge, in a trial of a thousand years. At what point, then, is the approach of danger to be expected? I answer, if it ever reach us, it must spring up amongst us. It cannot come from abroad. If destruction be our lot, we must ourselves be its author and finisher. As a nation of freemen, we must live through all time, or die by suicide."

The combination of socialism and “progressivism” is a deadly concoction.

work. It sounds good to those that want the government to provide for all their care but it doesn't work in practice. Margaret Thatcher famously said, "The problem with socialism is that pretty soon you run out of other people's money." Most liberals prefer the term progressive. Hillary Clinton announced she was a proud progressive but one that wanted to get things done. The audience applauded but really had no idea what that meant. It meant get socialist things done. The combination of socialism and "progressivism" is a deadly concoction.

pletely and provide for our every need, we are helping destroy ourselves and our country. Liberal progressives and socialists are the enemy within that Abe Lincoln and others have warned about. America's destruction will not come from an outside power. It will be an internal cancer. Here is exactly how Lincoln said it:

"Shall we expect some transatlantic military giant, to step over the ocean, and crush us at a blow? Never! -- All the armies of Europe, Asia, and Africa combined, with all the trea-

What we saw and heard from the Democrat candidates should concern us all. If America follows Obama with another liberal progressive or democratic socialist or any combination of those, there will be no hope for America's future. That attitude must be stopped. If you are not very concerned, you should be. Take great care in deciding who you will vote for in November 2016. And, by the way, not ALL Americans are "sick and tired" of hearing about Hillary's emails. Many are just "sick and tired" of her avoiding justice and the punishment she deserves.

True Reefer Madness

by C. Sage
Custer County Resident

Silver Cliff Trustees have been bitten by the marijuana bug, the THC drug that has also driven many in Colorado into a "money madness" (from marijuana, aka "reefer") mentality; incapable of seeing or understanding anything but moving forward, albeit blindly, "for the money". This sounds eerily similar to prostitution. Prostitution maybe, but at whose cost? Silver Cliff Trustees want only FACTS, so here are a few:

FACT: Anyone of legal age can grow up to six plants IN their own home including those seeking the drug for medical purposes or recreational use.

FACT: Marijuana use has a variety of adverse, short- and long-term effects on all users; mentally it effects clear, concise, logical thinking; physically it effects cardiopulmonary functions of the heart, impedes motor coordination; and developmentally it produces a profound deficit in connections between brain areas responsible for learning and memory, reducing as much as 8 IQ points that are NOT restored, and neurologically THC in levels seen in many edibles cause serious hallucinogenic effects.

FACT: Silver Cliff "marijuana committee" was stacked with mostly "pro" volunteers.

FACT: The Silver Cliff "marijuana committee" was stacked with half of the town trustees.

FACT: The Silver Cliff "marijuana committee" majority only believed the research they, themselves produced via phone calls and internet information they selected.

FACT: It is possible that they violated Sunshine Laws by having CLOSED meetings before holding the public forums.

FACT: The Silver Cliff "marijuana committee" town forums had a quorum of the trustees of the board in attendance at each forum.

FACT: The Silver Cliff "marijuana committee" heard from several professionals within the fields of education, including counselor Troy Bomgardner, Monty Lee representing the school board, school superintendent Mark Payler, and former teachers advising them NOT to dismiss and ignore the negative impact on the school children and youth in our entire community; yet the majority REFUSED to accept their professional life experiences as FACTUAL information to consider.

FACT: The Silver Cliff "marijuana committee" heard from several in the community who work with children and youth by way of mentoring those in the school, yet the majority REFUSED to accept their professional and personal life experiences as FACTUAL information to consider.

FACT: The Silver Cliff "marijuana committee" heard from the Sheriff Byerly, Dick Downey, and other former law enforcement officials of the law enforcement costs and concerns associated with legal marijuana; yet the majority REFUSED to accept their professional experiences and FACTUAL information from inside the law enforcement profession.

FACT: The Silver Cliff "marijuana committee" heard from local doctor Ginger Smith who works at our own clinic and an emergency clinic in a nearby town where marijuana is rampant, yet the majority REFUSED to accept her professional experiences and FACTUAL information from inside the medical profession.

FACT: The Silver Cliff "marijuana committee" heard from Timmi Pearson, counseling professional both inside and outside of correctional facilities, and former nurse Fran Hudson, yet the majority REFUSED to accept the professional experiences and FACTUAL information from inside these professions.

FACT: The Silver Cliff "marijuana committee" heard from parents whose daughter died from drug use, beginning with marijuana, and are now raising her children; yet the majority had NO REACTION or response to their FACTUAL life experiences and their plea to not bring marijuana into the town.

FACT: The Silver Cliff "marijuana committee" heard from local professional, Julie Oloman, who volunteered to be their "main street manager" and vowed to bring in reputable ways of increasing income, yet the majority had NO REACTION or response to the suggestion.

FACT: The Silver Cliff "marijuana committee" heard from several, including former General Hollingsworth, who are concerned about the moral issues surrounding marijuana use; yet the majority REFUSED to consider these issues.

FACT: The town of Silver Cliff is struggling financially and admittedly does not have enough income, yet the trustees are discussing spending money to pay stipends to themselves AND pay to attend an upcoming marijuana symposium.

FACT: The proposed income in tax revenue from a marijuana store or grow facility may be roughly $30,000 which is not enough money to pay for a 24 hour/round the clock "marshal" protection AND the cost of regular law enforcement.

FACT: There is NO GUARANTEE (of Silver Cliff taking this reefer money-making proposition to the Silver Cliff voters, and if passing,) that bringing this drug into their town will have ANY financial increase for the town when ALL costs are realized and offset with any proposed income.

FACT: People in other towns having grow facilities complain of the lights during growing season (spring to summer) and the highly offensive smell during growing and harvesting season.

FACT: There is significant evidence that lights during growing season (spring to summer) would impede our community's nationally distinguished DARK SKIES.

FACT: Land/Property in Custer County is rarely on the market for less than 2 years; there is no guarantee that bringing marijuana in will increase land values for property owners.

FACT: Water usage for each marijuana plant is an estimated 800 hundred gallons during its lifetime, while water needed for people to live is becoming a murky issue (as Bob Senderhoff pointed out to the board) between states and federal rights with tighter controls.

FACT: The state of Colorado and Custer County has seen an influx of people without jobs since the inception of this "legal" drug.

FACT: The THC level in marijuana now produced in Colorado has increased to at least four times the strength than the amount in the 1960s-1980s version of marijuana with marijuana products having a higher amount of hallucinogenic properties than originally thought.

FACT: Deaths have been reported from the use of marijuana and the ingestion of marijuana products around the world, including Colorado, yet the majority on the "marijuana committee" refuse to believe the evidence and FACT of these deaths occurring.

FACT: Student use and suspensions in middle school and high school have significantly increased since the inception of "legal" marijuana sales in Colorado.

FACT: Marijuana is an addictive substance, as is alcohol, tobacco, and any other drug. Beginning in the 1950s, the use of marijuana has increased in America and marijuana became known as a GATEWAY DRUG alongside of alcohol and tobacco resulting in the government implementing anti-drug campaigns and treatment centers and programs around the U.S. to combat the effects.

FACT: The town trustees heard from Silver Cliff resident Jake Shy who inquired about accountability from the board for the negative impact marijuana has and will have on the youth and other areas in the community should their marijuana plans go through and was met with an aggressive accusation of the question being a "threat" to the board pushing the marijuana vote.

FACT: This is more than a money matter. This is a people matter, this is a life matter, where ALL LIVES MATTER, from our children to our elderly and the NEGATIVE impact and consequences this drug brings into OUR COMMUNITY which IS A VAST HEALTH, MORAL, CHARACTER, AND INTEGRITY ISSUE - each with its own respective aspect of influence in the lives of our community.

Ben Goldacre said, "You cannot reason people out of a position that they did not reason themselves into." It is a marked-dark day indeed, when NOTHING MATTERS to "TRUSTEES" but their own selfish "perceived" money-producing schemes at the negative tangible and intangible cost of others; ALL others, within the struggling little town of Silver Cliff AND surrounding community. Many things can divide a community, and this is one sure issue that is dividing; and now obviously one that no one will be accountable for....well, maybe the voters....most likely they will be blamed...not the "leaders" who led them down the path to begin with. Of course, it doesn't help when a Silver Cliff town trustee states in a meeting that he "doesn't care" about anyone else outside of his town; THAT FACT couldn't be any more evident and representative of the town board of "Trustees". The question is: is this a true result of the REEFER MADNESS BUG infecting people's minds - including the Silver Cliff Town Trustees?

A Message from a Fremont RE-2 School Board Candidate

I am running for the Fremont RE-2 school board because I believe I can make a difference. I am a retired teacher and I have remained actively involved in education at our middle school as a volunteer. I also have extensive experience in corporate management and training and have previous board experience in the horse industry.

Fremont RE-2 has a number of issues which need to be addressed. Following are the top three for the coming year:

1. Students need a learning environment that is physically, emotionally, and intellectually safe.

No child should ever be stuck in a one-size-fits-all system. If a child has unique interests and educational needs that can be better served in one school over another, then parents should be able to make that decision which works best for that student. Having a choice of schools will also promote competition, which will encourage schools to continuously improve in order to get better results.

2. As issues with Common Core continue to be debated, we must ensure that we maintain control of curriculum and that local issues are addressed effectively. Research shows that two of the most important factors affecting student achievement are highly competent teachers and parental involvement. Successful schools stress practices and they invest in the effectiveness of their teachers. Those schools work at improving the practices of their teachers – content knowledge and classroom management. Parental involvement can be accomplished through outreach and volunteer programs.

3. As funding becomes increasingly challenging, we must look for creative ways to ensure that the district remains fiscally viable. Educational reform can be accomplished in spite of a challenging economic environment. School choice (charter, traditional, voucher programs) and rewards for our best teachers in addition to greater parental and community involvement will place our district in a position to continue to positively impact our children's lives and futures.

My vision for Fremont RE-2 in the next five-ten years is a district with high student achievement despite the economic stressors inherent in a small rural district. I envision a district with a wider regional view, sharing resources with RE-1 in Cañon City.

Susan Hilderbrand,
Fremont County

the proverbial EYE of those who are followers of those terrorists/other 'wanta be's' will be coming our way...the potential for terrorist cells to be born in Colorado may be upon us should the President's plan come to pass."

Chairman of the Fremont County Republicans, Richard Hollabaugh, says, "They have no business being here. It would be the most tragic thing to happen to this county...and, if they even try it, I'd like to see 5,000 Cañon City residents out there in front of the prison gates...and I'll be the first one out there."

People are angry with what seems like a blatant disregard for the safety and well-being of the citizens of our county as well as a disregard for the laws of our country. Cañon City mayoral candidate Preston Troutman was quoted as saying, "This is a concentrated group of people who are bent on the destruction of America and the American way of life."

Although our Senator Bennett did not support legislation that would have blocked the administration from transferring these detainees to the United States, he now is changing his rhetoric saying in an interview to the Denver

Post that the Department of Defense has no authority to transfer these prisoners.

Editor of the Fremont Crusader, John Emmerling, objects, believing that because they will be under American law that they could possibly get out in no time... "Keep'em in Gitmo. That's where they belong. They're enemies of our country."

Ed Whitcraft, head of the Royal Gorge Tea Party and former career Army Sergeant, thinks they need to fill up Gitmo with other prisoners from Afghanistan and other places and not close it. Bringing them here will bring their families and problems that we cannot absorb here.

Vernon Thompson, a local businessman, thinks these terrorists first of all should have been shot and killed, but at the very least since they are war prisoners should be kept where they are until the war is over.

"I believe that there is an agenda behind this by Mr. Obama to give favor to the terrorists...but most of all I believe that he wants to give Gitmo back to Cuba. We've already released so many who have turned back to terrorism...any sane person who cared about our country wouldn't have even thought about doing the things Obama has done."

Rumor Confirmed: Mike Got His Patch!

by George Gramlich

The rumor that a third person won the coveted Rifleman patch at last weekend's Appleseed Marksmanship Event at the Sangre Shooting Sports Club range was confirmed when the recipient, none other than Mike "Malfunction" Allen, strolled triumphantly into the Sentinel's Main Street office last Monday and produced a genuine Appleseed Rifleman patch to this reporter.

Being taught early on in the newspaper business that one should winning target from an Appleseed. If he didn't have the target, there might have been some "issues".) And wonder of wonders, Malfunction Mike pops out his cell phone and produces a picture of the winning target, and it showed some pretty good shooting!

So, folks, we can reliably report that Mike Allen, resident of Custer County, Colorado, has indeed honestly won one of the most difficult awards to obtain in the shooting world, the Appleseed Rifleman's patch. Congratulations, Mike. Well Done!

make every effort to confirm "facts" and allegations, this reporter asked Mike if he had the actual target that said award was based on. (I knew that he had because one NEVER throws away the award/patch

Secure The Door Fundraiser for CCCS

In light of recent events concerning school security around the country, Custer County School District C-1 Superintendent Mark Payler has initiated a fundraising drive to raise money to replace the unsafe, front entrance doors to our school with a modern door system that will provide a much more safe environment for our kids and school staff.

Superintendent Payler described the type of door system in an email to the Sentinel last Friday:

"My vision for securing the main entry is to have a time-controlled lock on a set of doors that would be open during the first and last part of the day when students are entering the building. At a set time, the door then locks. Mounted on the building would be a secure box with a push button/notification system with a video camera, microphone, and speaker. A person requesting entry into the building would push a button that would activate a screen in the office. The administrative assistant would then ask the individual to show an ID (we could generate our own for our "frequent flyer" parents or visitors), and once the administrative assistant feels comfortable with the identity of the individual, they could push a button to remotely open the entry door, while at the same time keeping a digital video of the front entry if that documentation is needed later."

He also stated that he anticipates the cost to be about $20,000 and that is already seeking bids for the project.

So, let's dig deep, citizens, and get this done. It's a lot of money but potential benefit is priceless. And every little bit helps. Please send your checks to Custer County Central School, 709 Main Street, P.O. Box 730, Westcliffe, Colorado 81252. Or you can drop them off at the front office. Please make checks payable to Custer County School District C-1, Memo: Secure the Door Campaign.

Economic Development Corporation Fails in Bid for County Funding in the Wake of Failing to Raise Your Taxes 1%

Analysis and Commentary
by Paul Sage

On October 14th the Custer County Economic Development Corporation approached the Board of County Commissioners requesting $47,000 to fund their private corporation for 2016. Armed with a three-page handout outlining their current and proposed projects and a general outline of how they would spend the requested funding, they made a passionate plea for the money. The main claim to fame of the Economic Development Corporation thus far is the six-block-long Main Street Wi-Fi system in Westcliffe. To date there has been no effort to solicit public input from county residents seeking guidance on what efforts they would like to pursue to develop the economy of the area.

While the commissioners applauded the efforts of the group and again expressed a willingness to work with them, as they have with this and many similar efforts in the past, even at this late stage of the budget hearings, the county was still $132,000 away from a balanced budget and there was no more money to allocate.

It should be noted that the Custer County Economic Development Corporation is a 501-c-6 private, not-for-profit corporation (like the National Football League), contributions to which are not tax deductible, and which is not subject to any open meetings or records laws, which govern most entities that spend taxpayer money. Frequently, these "public-private partnerships", as they are called, are open doors to fraud and corruption with public funds. Recent examples are similar groups like "Jobs Ohio", the "Arizona Commerce Authority", "Enterprise Florida", and possibly the most famous example, "The Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation", which helped unravel Governor Scott Walker's presidential bid recently.

While the presentation made by the Custer County Economic Development Corporation stated that no members of the corporation are paid anything and pay for everything involved out of their own pocket, there is no way to confirm these statements without open meetings or records.

Recently, this same group proposed to the commissioners two initiatives to be placed on the upcoming November election ballot. One of these measures, which does appear on the ballot as 1A, seeks to have the county "opt-out" of Title 29, article 27 of the Colorado Revised Statutes (also known as SB 152) which prevents local governments from entering into these kind of "public-private partnerships" where they apply to things near and dear to the Economic Development Corporation like providing taxpayer funded internet service.

The other ballot initiative proposed at the same time by the Economic Development Corporation, which did not make it on to the ballot, and was not mentioned at this meeting was one to raise county sales and use taxes by 1% (to the tune of $100,000 per year) to support the private corporation. This proposal was so poorly worded and non-specific that it was rejected unanimously by the commissioners and not placed on the ballot at that time. The only promise of economic development attached to this proposal was that the Economic Development Corporation would make an additional $100,000 next year.

Black Holes, Time Travel, and Dark Skies

Press Release

Now that Westcliffe and Silver Cliff are recognized as a Dark Sky Community, people might be interested in learning more about the possibility of future space travel. Things have changed in the 50 years since the Space Race to put a man on the moon, and it may be that movies like "The Martian" and "Interstellar" have some basis in reality.

Mrs. Susan "Sam" Frostman, a local member of Dark Skies and an educator in physics and astronomy, will be presenting a talk on concepts such as black holes, time travel, and wormholes that have become commonplace in books and movies. Frostman will discuss the probability of these events occurring using quantum theories. The free event is scheduled for Friday, November 6th, at 5:30 p.m. at the West Custer County Library.

"No need for a calculator or science background to follow the strange thinking of today's astrophysicists," said Frostman.

"Come with an open mind and lots of questions."

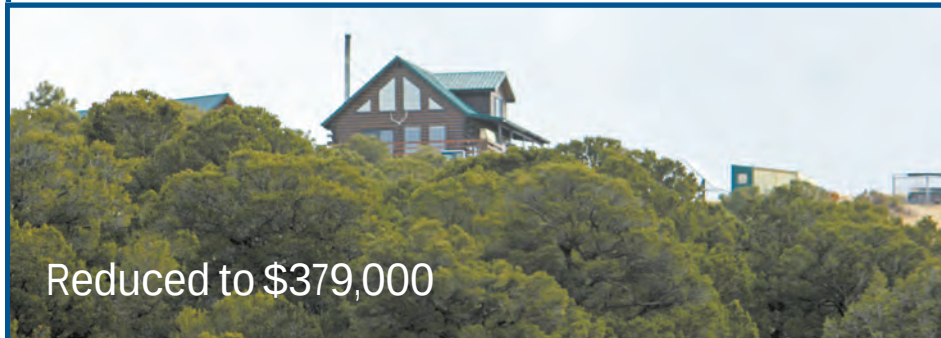

Sam Frostman brings a broad range of experience and education to this fascinating topic, including a BS in Physics and Mathematics, and an MAT in Planetarium Education. The planetarium at the Wausau West High School in Wisconsin is named after her as its first director. Also, Frostman taught various math, science, and astronomy courses for 7th through 12th grade for over 20 years, several of which were at Custer County Schools. She is a founding member of Dark Skies, loves astronomy and enjoys teaching others about physics and the stars. Sam and Tom "Frosty" Frostman have lived in the area for about 18 years and have two adult married children and two grandsons.

There is no signup or cost for this event at the Library Community Room at 209 Main Street in Westcliffe; however, seating is limited so arrive early to ensure a spot. Contact the library at 719-783-9138 for more information.

NWEA MAP Writing Test Results for CCCS Elementary School

Analysis and Commentary,
by George Gramlich,

Possibly the most accurate assessment test environment available today for primary schools, the Northwest Evaluation Association's Measures of Academic Performance (MAP) tests provide a consistent, easy to understand, performance evaluation methodology for the reading, writing, science, and math skills for students.

From the NWEA.Org website:

"Measures of Academic Progress® (MAP®) are K – 12 interim assessments that measure growth, project proficiency on high-stakes tests, and inform how educators differentiate instruction, evaluate programs, and structure curriculum.

Computer adaptive MAP assessments reveal precisely which academic skills and concepts the student has acquired and what they're ready to learn."

What is very refreshing is that the MAP scores mean the same every year. In other words, they have not been "dumbed down" to hide the poorer scoring levels of the last two or three decades (e.g., the SAT test). From the NWEA website. "MAP measures growth on a longitudinal scale, regardless of changes to standards. A score of 200 on MAP assessments aligned to rigorous new state or Common Core standards has the same meaning as a MAP score of 200 from 30 years ago."

Superintendent Mark Payler has graciously shared a picture of the beginning-of-the-year, elementary, writing MAP results shown in graphic form on a hallway in CCCS. Each column represents a grade starting with kindergarten on the left and ending with 5th grade on the right. Each paw symbol represents a student. The scale is 0 to 100. Blue is an excellent score (Hi Percentile, >80); Green is High/Average score (HiAvg Percentile, 61-80); Yellow is Average (41-60); Orange is Low Average (21-40) and Red is failing (<21). (For us old folks, Blue is excellent; Green is good; Yellow is average; and Orange and Red are failing.)

So for this beginning-of-the-year elementary grades writing MAP scores, the results have way too much Orange and Red (i.e., failing) for kindergarten thru 4th grade. So, as Superintendent Payler says, "We have our work cut out for us to show improvement." The good news is that these are the grades at the beginning of the year and we will be able to track the improvement by grade when the next MAP test is administered after Winter Break with the last one being given early May.

We will examine the elementary science and math MAP results next week in a separate article.

Jake Shy for School Board District 2

I am Jacob (Jake) Shy and I am running for School Board District 2.

I was born in Westcliffe and have lived here my whole life except for two years when I attended Northeastern Junior College and received my Associates Degree in Equine Management.

I have three daughters. Two of them attend CCHS and the other will be in a few years. They are third generation students of Custer County Schools.

I am running for this position for several reasons. First, I have no political agenda. I want the best possible education for our students. I want this school to be a place where we are excited to send our children. I want to make sure it is a safe place for learning and extracurricular activities. Sports and other after school activities are important and I want to make sure we can keep them. I also am an advocate for vocational education as well. Not all people are going to go to college so if we can teach them a skill or trade that can be very useful for their future.

I run a business here and my roots run very deep in this community so I feel it is my time to step up and do my part in preserving its future.

If you have questions or concerns, please stop by Valley Feeds or call me personally on my cell!!

Thanks for your support!!!!

Daughters of the American Revolution

General Marion Chapter DAR sponsored a table at Penrose Apple Day to spread the word to interested parties about Daughter of the American Revolution, and had very good results. The ladies sold baked goods and brochures about the Constitution, the Declaration of Independence, and DAR, fulfilling their goal of informing the community about DAR. The chapter also participated in the recent parade in Florence.

Creating Beautiful Smiles in Colorado

Bobcats Football: “A Class Program”

by Coach Troy Bomgardner

The CCHS Bobcats return home Saturday after two tough weeks on the road. On October 10th, the gridders fell to Rocky Mountain Lutheran, 56-18. The Bobcats started the game off with a recovering on the opening kickoff but couldn’t punch in a score but Edgar Pedigo stuffed the Lions to set up a safety and the Bobcats were up 2-0. However a fumble by the Bobcats on the free kick would get the Lions started on their drive to a victory.

The Bobcats stayed with the Lions for much of the 1st half, keeping the score close with less than 2 minutes left in the half at 22-18. A long run by RLM put the Lions up 30-18 at half and the Bobcats ran out of steam in the 2nd half. “I keep saying it but our guys are playing really hard,” said head coach Bomgardner. “It was very hot in Denver and we didn’t quit, in fact had some really good defensive stands in the 2nd half.”

Sam Dunlap led the Bobcats in rushing with 99 yards and a TD. Billy Berry led receivers with 2 catches including a 31-yard touchdown from Pedigo. Andy Feldmann led the Bobcats in tackling with 17 tackles. Feldmann is currently ranked third in the state in tackles.

On Friday night the Bobcats travelled to Simla for another Southern League game. Outsized by nearly 50 lbs a man, the smaller Bobcats fought hard against a playoff experienced opponent. “We gave up a few easy scores that really hurt us,” said Bomgardner. “But again, we fought hard against a strong opponent and showed signs of improvement.” The final scored ended 42-8.

The Bobcats did receive a very positive comment from one of the chain-gang crew members following the game. The chain-gang member came up to the Bobcat coaches following the game and told them he’d been working games for the past eight years and the Bobcats were the “classiest program” he’d seen over the past eight years. “That was a big compliment to our boys and our coaches,” exclaimed Bomgardner. “A winning program encompasses a lot of things that sometimes aren’t reflected on the scoreboard. Our guys are playing like winners, in both practice and games, and eventually we believe the scoreboard will also reflect that.”

The Bobcats are home for their final game of the season this Saturday against Kiowa at 1 p.m.

Ladies Bobcats: Hard Fought Game with Sargent

by Coach Greg Cravens

The Custer County High School volleyball team went 1-1 this week with a loss to League Champions Sargent Farmers and a victory over the Cripple Creek Pioneers.

The week started off Tuesday night with a big league match against Sargent. The Bobcats won the first meeting with the Farmers in an exciting 5-set match in September. With a victory, the Bobcats could have had a share of a league championship. Sargent was up to the task and won in straight sets, 21-25, 21-25, and 20-25.

It was a good match with a great crowd and great atmosphere for the team to play in. The Bobcats were led by McKensie Penkoff with 7 kills, followed by Emily Crossley and Halie Lemons with 5 and 4 respectively. Serving was the Bobcats’ strength the last few weeks and they were hoping to keep it up against the Farmers. Though they didn’t get as many aces as they were hoping, they keep Sargent from running in system majority of the time. Penkoff, Serenity Ham, and Elizabeth Mullett each had an ace. Defensively, the Bobcats played hard. Tish Schlachach ended the match with 41 digs and Crossley had 2 blocks.

After the match, many that came to watch were very impressed with the Bobcats’ determination to win and how entertaining the match was to watch. The team was excited to play in front of such a great crowd and, for those that weren’t able to come, got to listen to the match on the radio which made things even more exciting. The team appreciated everyone that came out to watch and cheer them on.

Cripple Creek was the destination on Saturday and the Pioneers were ready to play. The Bobcats came away with straight sets win. The first set saw both teams playing hard and going point for point and the Bobcats feeling lucky to get away with a 28-26 win. The CCHS team gained control in the second set and never let go, 25-14 and 25-12. Crossley, Mullett, and Athena Wisecup led offensively with 4 kills apiece. Mullett and Wisecup were on fire on the serves line with 7 and 5 aces respectively.

The Bobcats are now 9-3 in league and 10-7 overall, with only two matches in the regular season. The team travels to Del Norte next Saturday to take on the Tigers and the South Park Burros. Mark your calendars. Districts start on Tuesday, October 27th, with a District pig-tail match at home starting at 5 p.m. It would be great to get as many people out to the match as possible. You need to see how hard this team works for each other and how well they represent our school.

Cross Country Team Excels!

by Coach Jack Swartz

The Custer County Cross Country team took on the Southern Peaks League in Monte Vista on Friday for the last time, the middle school would be joining the high school. It is championship season and the teams did not disappoint.

The Custer County Cross Country team sold "Pinktober" shirts for Breast Cancer Awareness Month. Part of the proceeds went to the local Custer County Cares about Cancer association.

The middle school girls were led by Kylie Carter placing 16th on the 2-mile course in 14:17. Following Carter up was Kyleigh Martin in 29th place, a solid 15:13.

The Middle School boys put together a great race, placing 2nd overall at the meet. Leading the team was 8th grader Luke Canon taking 2nd place overall in 11:39. Closely following Canon was Elias Zellar in 7th place in 12:06. Rounding out the scoring was John Shepherd in 10th place in 12:22. Also running well for the Bobcats was Jeremiah Taylor (21st) in 13:02 and Harrison Walter (88th) in 18:26. Some of the middle school athletes will be competing at the Middle School State Championship on October 24th.

As for the high school teams, everything seems to be coming into place at the right time. Kayla Carter led the team with a very impressive 4th place finish in a time of 21:28. Carter is a favorite for the Regional Championship on October 22nd. Continue to run well when it counts is Katlyn Freeburg and Kayli Short. Freeburg (37th) dipped below 25 again running 24:38, also running a season best was Short (39th) in 24:46. Both girls need a strong finish next week to qualify for one more State Championship.

As for the boys, by far one of their best meets as a team. Jerald Taylor shook off an uncharacteristic performance last week to place 4th in 17:07. Running personal bests for the boys were Dalton Wommack (57th) in 20:37, Wesley Kagan (68th) in a season best time of 21:17, Scott Freeburg (77th) in a personal best of 22:05, Michael Batson (79th) in a personal best of 22:21, and Jess Franta (82nd) in a huge personal best time of 24:25. The boys would place 4th out of 6 teams in the Southern Peaks League.

The team looks to drop more time when they travel to the state qualifying meet on Thursday, October 22nd, in Pueblo.

Niagara Falls

Niagara Falls is located on the Niagara River which marks the border between New York State and Ontario, Canada. The Niagara River, drains Lake Erie into Lake Ontario, the combined falls form the highest flow rate of any waterfall in the world, with a vertical drop of more than 165 feet. The falls consists of two waterfalls: the American Falls on the American side of the border and the Canadian or Horseshoe Falls on the Canadian side. To the right of the American Falls is a smaller waterfall that has been separated from the American Falls by natural forces, which is usually called Bridal Veil Falls.

The Niagara Falls are well known for their beauty. It was known in the past as THE spot for Honeymooners. Today some of the water is diverted to provide power for the United States and Canada, making Niagara Falls the largest source of hydroelectric power in the world. Managing the balance between recreational, commercial, and industrial uses has been a challenge for the stewards of the falls since the 19th century. Twelve million tourists from all over the world visit Niagara Falls every summer.

In 1901 Annie Edson Taylor was a poor, sixty-three-year old widow when she arrived in Niagara Falls. Looking to make a name for herself and some money she hired herself a manager and decided to brave going over the falls in a barrel. She would be the first woman and the first person to go over the falls in a barrel. On October 24, 1901, in a barrel she designed herself, over the falls she went. She survived, though bruised, but "the heroine of Horseshoe Falls" didn't end up with the financial windfall she expected. She worked then as a Niagara street vendor for twenty years and died penniless.

Our Kids - Our Future. It's Looking Good!

MADDIE HENRICH

Maddie's parents are Cheree Philpy and the late Gary Henrich. She is 17 years old and entering her senior year.

It has been either Maddie or her sisters that you see working so hard on the landscaping and keeping the grounds at the school looking so nice. She began that job the summer she was in 8th grade.

Her thespian talents are wide and varied. She has participated in youth theatre, WCPA (Westcliffe Center for the Performing Arts) since she was in the 1st grade. Various local production roles include: "Shakespeare in the Park", "Cinderella", "A MidSummer Night's Dream", "Into the Woods", to name a few. Drama, it would appear, is in her future for years to come.

Maddie also went with the Spanish Club to Costa Rica this spring and had a grand time.

She is a smiling, gracious, and courteous young woman and went out of her way to speak to me.

Part one of two.

I would like to thank these young adults and pre-adults publicly for affording me the opportunity to speak with them. After these brief visits, it is very difficult to be pessimistic about their future and the future of America. From the young ones with care-free and precocious attitudes to the older ones with adult responsibilities and decisions facing them squarely in the face, they are all an inspiration and definitely a pleasure to interact with.

All this brain power, work ethic, beauty, and all around GOOD ATTITUDE, I have no worries about their successes and continued success.

~ Mary Seifert

BEN STAFFORD

Ben is the son of Pepper and Trent Stafford and big brother to Sam. He is 9 years old and is in the 4th grade.

Ben had a great time on vacation this year with his family in Cabo. The best time, according to Ben, was the whale watching. He also saw sea otters and dolphins. He spent time swimming and jet skiing as well.

He likes reading, writing, and art as well as playing basketball for sport.

His favorite subject in school is science. He read a book in 3rd grade about the ocean and dolphins which piqued his interest in marine life and has led him to the conclusion he would like to be a marine biologist.

Ben is looking forward to driving a tractor and helping on the family ranch next summer.

MATTHEW BURGENDORFF

Matthew is the son of Veronica and Doug Burgdorff of Westcliffe. He is 5 years old and will be in kindergarten this year.

Matthew has had a full summer with bike riding (his favorite), t-ball, and swimming. His Dad was his coach in the Wet Mountain T-Ball program with practices and games two times a week. He is a well-rounded student. When queried about his favorite part of school, his response: "Everything".

Some of you know Matthew as the young man known to recite the Pledge of Allegiance at numerous places around town. His first "official" recitation was January 2013 for the American Legion. According to his parents, he also says a prayer when the emergency siren sounds.

He has aspirations to be a sheriff when he is older. This was perhaps influenced by the fact that he is neighbors with long-time, now retired, Sheriff Fred Jobe.

Matthew is a fine young man, all smiles and obviously not afraid to speak privately and publicly.

ELIZABETH MULLETT

Elizabeth is the daughter of Stephanie and Ryan Mullett of Westcliffe with a brother and sister at home. She is 15 years old and going into the 10th grade.

She is a member of FFA and especially enjoys science and Ag in school. She also likes the socialization opportunity that school brings. There is also word out that Elizabeth is quite an athlete.

She is striving for a golf scholarship which she hopes will afford her the chance for college back east or more specifically North Carolina. Elizabeth is on a golf team from Florence, as there is not a local team. At a tournament at the Sumo Golf Village in Florence, with 11 teams participating, her team placed third.

Working part-time at St. Andrews Golf Course keeps her busy along with babysitting and landscaping (also known as mowing lawns).

A busy summer included a trip to North Carolina where she visited family and friends as well as participating in a few golf tournaments.

Elizabeth is a lovely young lady and it will be fun to watch her last few years here in Westcliffe.

Obituary Shirley Reinke

Shirley Reinke was born on August 26, 1954, in Larned, Kansas, to parents Clark & Mary Jo & a two-year-old sister named Pamela Rucker. Shirley was somewhat of a tomboy. She loved camping, children, family, travel, and reading. She dreamed of having 12 children of her own and also of living in a boxcar. Some of you may have guessed correctly that she loved the book series “Boxcar Children”. Shirley had graduated high school and taken classes at the Nazarene College in Olathe, Kansas, before meeting Bradley Reinke from Nebraska at a Fourth of July event in 1975. It was hosted by Shirley’s long-time friends and employer of Bushton, Kansas. Brad and Shirley had both been praying for a life-long partner and each one knew that this was the one God had chosen. From the time that they met they were talking of marriage within 6 weeks and were then married in Bushton, Kansas, within 6 months. Shirley loved life, her husband, her children, and family. She loved everything that had to do with her children and would not allow anyone else the privilege of teaching them. Shirley used to pin notes on her mom’s and dad’s pillow that indicated that it was a sin for her family to have so much and not share it with children who had so little. Shirley was a quiet, loving, and wise woman with a passion for adoption and nurturing children in the home. This coming February Brad and Shirley would have been married 40 years. On September 12, 2015, after putting up a valiant fight for more than five years with cancer, Shirley’s hope was fulfilled. In 1 Corinthians 13:13 it tells us; “And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.” In the presence of God, Shirley will not need faith or hope, but love (charity) will live for ever because “God is Love”! (1 John 4: 8 &16)

Shirley was preceded in hope fulfilled by her father Clark Rucker. She is survived by her husband Brad, daughter Jolie, and husband Lucas Epp, and grandchildren Zaethyn, Zurie, and Zealynd; her son Zachary and wife Karla Reinke; daughters Bethany, Oksana, Emma, Chloe, Ivy, and Sophia Reinke; her mother Mary Jo and husband Bob Perser; her sister Pam and husband David Hoelscher, and a host of precious nephews, nieces, and great nieces and nephews. Also by cousins, aunts, uncles, and many dear friends! Though we as friends and family morn and miss Shirley very much, we do not morn as those that have no hope. Because Shirley received Jesus Christ as her Savior and the gift of eternal life by faith, we as believers will be reunited together with Shirley in Christ’s presence at the second coming of Christ. (1Thessalonians 4:13-18)

A memorial service will be held for Shirley on November 7th, 2015, at 4:00 p.m. at the Wet Mountain Valley Saddle Club building. A dinner will be served, and anyone who cared about our family is invited. Thank you, community, for all of the love and care that you have already shown to us and our family in various ways! God bless each one of you!

Citizens of the Year

by Charlotte Burrous

They go about their everyday life helping others.

For their efforts, Marilyn Felix was named Citizen of the Year by the Florence Elks Lodge No. 611 while Drs. Eric and Linda Carlson were named Citizens of the Year by the Royal Gorge Association of Realtors.

The recipients said they were pleased with the announcement.

“We were totally surprised,” said Linda. “We thought we were just attending a lunch for Realtors.”

On the other hand, Felix re-

“I was incredibly surprised,” Felix said. “I didn’t even know they had such an award. It was a lovely surprise.”

She learned about it when one of the members told her she had won the award because of her services in art to the Elks.

“I had (taught) numerous classes (to) middle schoolers,” Felix said. “I did everything from watercolor to ink work, to pastel, mainly what I call fine art.”

Teaching art is enjoyable, but so is other volunteer work that she is involved.

“This is my joy to be able to sit here in (Grandma’s Beads & Yarns at 615 Main St.) and help people,” Felix said. “Any customers that buy yarn here, I help set up projects. I help them when they have problems.”

In the same vein, Felix noted that Linda had earned the award for her volunteer work with the Fremont County/Valdai Sister City Association, Mountain View Core Knowledge, Garden Park High School and with the Spirits of Fremont County, relating historical information to residents and out-of-towners alike. She also volunteers with Rotary. In February, she will visit Africa, where the Rotarians will help set up science labs and train the teachers to use them. In March, she will visit with Rotary to Bombay, India, to celebrate the clubs that were established in 1929.

“It’s actually World Water Day when we’ll be there,” Linda said. “We’re going to talk about sanitation. There’s tremendous poverty in India. We’re going to try to help.”

In addition, she helps with the Artists Gallery and the Fremont Center for the Arts. Eric also plays an instrument with the Southern Colorado Community Band and helps with FCA, as well as numerous other organizations.

Recently, Linda, who became the local recruiter for the Bonfils Blood Drive about three years ago, was named as Volunteer of the Year during a reception in Denver.

“Since I’ve been involved with it, we doubled the number of donors,” she said.

But their hearts are in the community.

Felix said Linda is just as involved with The Artists Gallery and she is with Grandma’s Beads & Yarn.

“We really believe in local shops and local businesses. We both try really hard to shop locally,” Felix said. “We feel very strongly as we try to keep the community alive.”

Boyd Canterbury Photographs on Display

by Charlotte Burrous

Taking photos is a way of life for Fremont County resident Boyd Canterbury. But it wasn’t always the case.

“I started (taking photographs) in the early 2000s,” he said. “I started out with 35 mm then I went to digital.”

For his efforts, his photographs are on display at the Pour House in Florence. Several of them depict a train in a fog while one of them is a bridge.

“I took the bridge picture in New Castle on 9/11,” Canterbury said. “I took the train pictures last May. I call that train the ‘Ghost Train’ (because) it’s kind of disappearing (into the fog). It was kind of cool.”

Those who would like may see the photo display on the walls of the Pour House, but they will change on a regular basis.

“They are for sale,” Canterbury added. “I like to do people and the trains. I like to catch people at a distance to get the natural look of people lost in thought.”

In the past, he has had other pictures displayed in galleries at Glenwood Springs and Aspen. But what really spurred him on is when he won first place in a photo contest in Parachute.

Although he gave it up for awhile, it wasn’t long before he picked the camera up and began to offer his services to wedding parties, families, during rodeos, parties, special occasions, and much more.

Those who would like to meet him can do so when Pour House owner Kenny Paul holds Artists Gatherings, where the first one will feature Canterbury with his trains and bridge.

Paul said he is intrigued with his photographs.

“I like the train series,” he said. “Each time, I find something unique like this, I’m happy to display it. I like it because it’s not photo shopped and they are professionally framed. You can tell he works very hard on it.”

The photographs are on display and on sale. For more information or to purchase them, stop by the Pour House at 202 W. Main St. in Florence.

Islam Immigration Threatens world Freedom

What is happening in Europe right now likely may be a foreshadowing of what will occur in America in the near future--the Islam problem. Islamists are crowding Europe and threatening to colonize the continent because of lax immigration and failure to secure the borders. What sparked the Crusades in the Middle Ages--a defense of the homeland against Islamic aggression--may well turn out to be the issue of the new century in Europe--except this time Islam is invading without arms. In the United States, a "president" with Islamic sympathies and an impotent Congress are allowing Islam to take a foothold in colonization of North America. The end result is a threat to democracy and national security.

Reuters reports in London that Britain's Prime Minister David Cameron has "unveiled a new strategy on Monday to combat extremism, saying the battle was "perhaps the "defining one of this century", but his proposals were condemned by Muslims as demonizing their communities and set to fail." According to Reuters, the Muslim Council of Britain (MCB), said the government's strategy was based on poor analysis and risked alienating those whose support it. The MCB's Secretary General, Shuja Shafi, said, "Whether it is in mosques, education or charities, the strategy will reinforce perceptions that all aspects of Muslim life must undergo a 'compliance' test to prove our loyalty to this country."

The Cameron government's Counter-Extremism Strategy, Reuters

reports, is "designed primarily to counter the ideology promoted by Islamic State militants, al Qaeda and other Islamists which the authorities say can lead young Britons onto a path of violence." Cameron wrote on his Facebook page, "Subversive, well-organized and sophisticated in their methods, Islamist extremists don't just threaten our security, they jeopardize all that we've built together - our successful multi-racial, multi-faith democracy. So we have to confront them wherever we find them." Cameron rightly assesses the situation with Islam. Islam is incompatible with freedom in general and Western democracy in particular.

While the politically correct and the so-called "enlightened" see no threat to democracy posed by Islamists, their position is clearly on the wrong side of history. Islam's religious theology requires submission to Islam either by choice, by force or by death. Where in the world is there peace, freedom and just treatment under the law with Islam in control? With Islam there is no freedom of religion; no freedom of speech; there is slavery, domestic abuse, child abuse, sex trafficking, and drug trafficking as a matter of Islamic control and Sharia Law. Europe and America need to wake up for the example of Babylon in Jeremiah 51:14 looms: "Surely, I will fill thee with men, as with locusts; and they shall raise a battle cry against thee."

There's an op-ed on Fox this morning that you should read.

Christians are being be-headed in the Middle East and you have lectured us about the Crusades. Christians have been killed in Charleston and you have preached to us about the National Rifle Association. Christians have now been singled out and murdered in Oregon and mum's the word. Why?

What would you have said, Mr. President, had the victims been Muslims? What would you have said had they been targeted because they were transgender, gay, or wearing a hoodie? Would you have condemned it? Would you have called for hate-crimes legislation? Would you have confronted the ideology that led to the crime? Would you have lectured us about phobias and bigotry?

We already know that, don't we? Remember Mr. Zimmerman, who I remind you was acquitted of shooting Mr. Martin because he fired in self-defense after having his head bashed against a concrete sidewalk and in response exercised his God-given right to live instead of die at the hand of a thug who attacked him.

You, Mr. President, along with many others, first tried to paint him as a "white man" (false, he's Hispanic) and when that didn't work you called him a bigot anyway and supported those who took that view. You even said you considered the dead Mr. Martin someone who could be "your son."

Indeed, you personally, Mr. President, fanned the flames of racial hatred in that circumstance, and despite your best effort both personally from your bully pulpit and in the press a jury of Mr. Zimmerman's peers found him not guilty.

There has not been one word about the fact that those who were Christian were targeted for execution in Oregon while others who professed some other faith, or none at all, were spared.

Dear Mr. President: You Are NOT My President

WORD.

Then there are reports that members of the military, which you command, were ordered to ignore Muslims sexually assaulting young boys in Afghanistan. One service member who ignored that order and intervened anyway has been discharged for doing so. Got that, folks? This man was discharged from the service for attempting to stop a young boy from being sexually assaulted in his anus by a Muslim Afghani thug.

Obama's military discharged this man from the service for his ethically and morally correct act and Obama, who has the authority as Commander in Chief to rescind that discharge and eject from the service anyone and everyone involved in it, has refused to do so.

Why?

Virtually every one of these shootings has taken place in a "Gun Free Zone", otherwise known by deranged criminals as a TARGET RICH ENVIRONMENT WITH UNARMED VICTIMS.

Despite this fact, Obama has done exactly nothing to remove those signs and demand repeal of the laws on the books enforcing same.

Instead, he has threatened "executive action" to make a widow who sells her former husband's large and lawfully-owned gun collection a felon unless she first obtains a BATFE license as a gun dealer and complies with all of the commercial requirements for same.

Further nearly all of the shooters in these incidents, including the most-recent in Oregon and going all the way back to Columbine, were either on or withdrawing from drugs that have a black-label warning for suicide and uncontrolled rage among the specific age group of 15-25. These shooters are virtually without exception in that age bracket.

The only exceptions of note that I'm aware of have been those who murdered in the name of Islam.

Mr. President, you have not said ONE WORD about removing those drugs from being able to be prescribed to persons aged 15-25 except where 24/7 monitoring can be provided, even though the correlation between people in that age group, the use of those drugs and these incidents is statistically off-the-charts in terms of the likelihood of that association not being a matter of random chance.

Instead, what this president has done is demand that the people be disarmed while both dangerous thugs and those mentally addled by known dangerous substances handed out like candy are given posted places in which to go to and murder innocent, peaceful people who are obeying the law. Worse, these are places that have a gross overrepresentation of our children present in them.

The Second Amendment does not exist so people can punch holes in paper or hunt for food. That's a beneficial side effect. The Second Amendment exists as a formal recognition of every human's Creator-Endowed Right to protect their own life in the gravest extreme, irrespective of why that extreme situation exists, when, or where.

You, Mr. President, are both trying to infringe on and deprive the American people of their GOD GIVEN RIGHT TO LIVE and at the same time you are sitting silently, despite the government having the regulatory power to put a stop to it, while others potentiate that threat to the people's life for profit.

Your continued action and inaction is outrageous and it has gone on for long enough. If you won't stop this crap, then you must be impeached RIGHT DN NOW. If Congress will not impeach for the high crime of intentionally endangering our youth among others and silently allowing the creation of these rage monsters to continue, then the people must remove Congress from office en-masse and replace all of them with office-holders who will.

Mr. President, you may desire a socialist utopia in which there are no weapons (other than those possessed by your Secret Service agents) and, thus, you are the only one who can defend your life while the rest of us are defenseless, but that's the position of a despotic King, not the President of a Constitutional Republic.

This nation is the latter, not the former, and you swore an oath to uphold the Constitution and defend same.

Ben Carson Upsets Mainstream Media: Questions Fiat Money

by Ryan McMaken, The Mises Institute, via ZeroHedge.com

(Editor/GG: Go, Ben!!! A little too late to save the U.S.A., but keep sticking it to them, sir.)

Neurosurgeon-turned-presidential candidate Ben Carson has been under attack this week by our PC-enforcers in the media. While most of the media scorn has been directed at Carson’s defense of gun ownership following last week’s shooting in Oregon – Matt O’Brien of the Washington Post slapped at Carson for flirting with the gold standard.

In an article on Friday criticizing Jeb Bush for not condemning the gold standard harshly enough (Bush only offered a timid “I don’t think so” when asked whether the U.S. should make such a move), O’Brien highlighted some surprisingly sound comments Dr. Carson made earlier this week during an interview with NPR. While discussing the nation’s current debt, Carson said:

“[T]he only reason that we can sustain that kind of debt is because of our artificial ability to print money, to create what we think is wealth, but it is not wealth, because it’s based upon our faith and credit. You know, we decoupled it from the domestic gold standard in 1933, and from the international gold standard in 1971, and since that time, it’s not based on anything. Why would we be continuing to do that?”

Because of views like this, O’Brien dismisses Carson as not being a “candidate of serious policy.”

Unfortunately, for O’Brien, he spends the rest of his column demonstrating that his own views on the gold standard, which he refers to as “the world’s worst idea today”, should not be taken seriously.

Along with offering the typical flawed-Friedmanite narrative of how the Federal Reserve’s dedication to preserving the gold standard, O’Brien is concerned about the impact a gold standard has on interest rates.

Without a hint of irony, O’Brien suggests that interest rates guided by the market simply lack the wisdom of our current PhD Standard:

“The question, then, is when gold actually does “want” to go up. And the answer is not when the economy would want it to. That’s because the price of gold doesn’t go up when the economy is overheating, and down when it’s cooling off. If it did, then the gold standard would give us high interest rates when we needed them, and low interest rates, too.”

So O’Brien’s problem is with the fact that the market does not follow his Keynesian models on how interest rates should behave. Like most self-proclaimed “economic wonks” in D.C., O’Brien can’t imagine a world in which the Fed is limited in what it can do to respond to a recession.

Perhaps it’s time for Mr. O’Brien to read about the Forgotten Depression.

Student Suspended After Wearing Military Memorial Shirt

Honoring Marine Brother

by Victor Skinner, EAGNews.com

GRESHAM, Ore. – Dexter McCarty Middle School student Alan Holmes understands that his freedom is intricately tied to those who fought and died defending the United States of America.

His older brother joined the U.S. Marines when he was 19 years old and served a tour in Iraq, Fox 12 reports.

But school officials apparently don’t share Holmes’ understanding or patriotic spirit, and recently forced the eighth-grader to change his shirt that depicted a traditional soldier memorial or face in-school suspension.

Holmes chose the latter.

“The principal, I asked him, is this considered a suspension? He said yes I’ll see you tomorrow and I left,” Holmes told KATU.

“I was just upset. I was heartbroken,” he added. “My brother, he means everything to me. Just being able to help and give back to the people who fought and died for us it just makes me feel good.”

The school dress code states that students cannot wear anything that promotes alcohol, drugs, tobacco, or violence. Holmes’ shirt depicted a military rifle barrel first into the ground, with a helmet on top and boots on the bottom. It reads: “Standing for those who stood for us.”

School officials told Holmes the shirt was inappropriate because it contained a weapon, and asked him to instead wear a school shirt, but Holmes refused.

“They won’t let me wear a shirt to support the people who keep us free,” he told Fox 12. “I’m not going to support them.”

“I’m proud of him,” Holmes’ father, Charles Holmes, said. “I would have done the same thing.”

School officials would not discuss the issue with the media.

Alan Holmes said he understands why school officials would be concerned about images of weapons in an era of school shootings, but his shirt clearly does not promote violence.

“This isn’t relating to violence. The barrel is pointed down – total gun safety,” he said.

News of Holmes’ suspension enraged a lot of folks online.

“The ‘image’ on this shirt shows (honor to) buried American soldiers, the weapon is used to hold the helmet when buried in the field,” Frank Martin posted to Facebook. “If that is inappropriate ... then the school should haul down the American flag in front of it and return all ... federal funding it receives.”

“I understand the paranoia going on with school administrators, but this is about as silly as the kid who made a gun out of a pointed finger and got tossed out, too,” Pam McFarlin added. “I would like to gather about 500 folks all wearing that t-shirt and surround the school.”

“This kid is a hero. His message was positive and patriotic while showing support for his older brother who is a U.S. Marine defending this country,” Vince Van De Coevering wrote. “If he was my kid, he’d get an extra scoop of ice cream tonight.”

“These school administrators have gone soft in the brain. I hope our schools are still teaching about our precious freedoms and they should understand that the reason we have those precious freedoms is because brave men and women went in harms way when called,” Bob Sutton posted.

“Nothing inappropriate about that shirt. Perhaps we should suspend these soft-brained administrators who don’t understand what their country stands for,” he continued. “Signed, a third generation U.S. Army veteran. P.S. Well done, young man. Always stand for what you know to be right no matter what.”

by ColoradoPeakPolitics.com

In an unbelievable twist (not really), the first Democratic Party debate for the 2016 presidential election kicked off with a debate of capitalism vs. socialism. What country are we living in? Isn’t capitalism, which has delivered countless Americans from poverty, a cornerstone of the foundation of our country and the American Dream?

While some would say that America is a long way from socialism, it would appear not, as Democratic Socialist Bernie Sanders explains that the core of the Democratic Party is a socialist agenda (something we’ve been saying for eons):

“Well, we’re going to win because first, we’re going to explain what democratic socialism is. And what democratic socialism is about is saying that it is immoral and wrong that the top one-tenth of 1 percent in this country own almost 90 percent — almost — own almost as much wealth as the bottom 90 percent. That it is wrong, today, in a rigged economy, that 57 percent of all new income is going to the top 1 percent.”

But, this wasn’t the only time that the Democratic candidates espoused views that are entirely out of the mainstream of America, and, frankly, Colorado.

The debate moved on to gun control where most of the candidates tried to out-gun control one another. Former Maryland Governor Martin O’Malley claimed an “F”

Arabic Is Now the Fastest Growing Language in America

by Michele Hickford, Editor-in-Chief,
AllenBWest.com

(Editor/GG: This islamic invasion of the U.S., and the inevitable conflict that will come, has been enabled by BOTH the democrat and republican parties. BOTH. Over 250,000 muslims are "legally" immigrating to our country each year. Why are WE VOTING for people (that is, our RINO's) who allow this to happen and actually revel in it? We have 94 MILLION people out of work and we are bringing millions of unemployable, third-world, life-time welfare cases into our country who are bringing a culture of hate and entitlement which will destroy our republic. We don't need anymore immigrants. Period. Have our Colorado RINO U.S. representatives Gardner, Tipton, and Coffman done ANYTHING to stop this invasion? We voted these RINO's in and you know what their primary job is now? STAYING IN POWER AT ALL COSTS. Their voting records are horrible. Tipton even had John Boehner, the head RINO of All and one of the people who is PERSONALLY responsible for the destruction of this country, to a cozy, rich-people Tipton-Slush-Fund fundraiser here in Colorado only a few months ago. And you know what RINO Boehner talked about? How the Tea Party and other conservatives are hurting the country because they are protesting and blocking LIBERAL AND DESTRUCTIVE legislation!!! Patriots: WAKE UP! NO MORE RINO's. Vote these narcissistic, ego-maniac, power-hungry fakes OUT OF OFFICE.)

If you guessed Spanish, you are incorrecto, amigos.

Nope, the latest Census Bureau's 2014 American Community Survey (ACS) reveals that Arabic and Urdu – Pakistan's national language– are the fastest-growing foreign languages spoken at home, according to a new report by the Center for Immigration Studies, as reported by Breitbart.

"After five decades of large-scale immigration, a record 63.2 million U.S. residents, or more than one-in-five, speak a language other than English when at home.

Previous reports have shown that the United States is now the second largest Spanish speaking country in the world. But the new census study shows that the fastest-growing foreign languages, in percentage terms, are languages spoken by immigrants from Muslim-majority countries.

Between 2010 and 2014, there was a 29 percent increase in Arabic, a 23 percent increase in Urdu, and a 9 percent jump in Persian (Farsi), which is spoken in Iran.

The findings of this report reinforce other studies, which show that Muslim immigration is the fastest growing bloc of new immigrants. Every year the United States voluntarily imports more than a quarter of a million– or 280,000– Muslim migrants (this figure includes permanently resettled immigrants, guest workers, refugees, and foreign students). All of these immigrants are invited into the U.S. on visas and therefore have the opportunity to collect welfare, resettle their relatives, and eventually apply for citizenship and voting rights.

Arabic is now the most common language spoken by refugees, and 91.4 percent of recent refugees from the Middle East are on food stamps."

That's just GREAT news, isn't it?

Do you need any clearer evidence of the "fundamental transformation" of America?

Government Corruption Tops List of American's Fears

by George Washington
Blog, via ZeroHedge.com

Time reports:

Corruption of government officials is currently Americans' number one fear, according to a recent survey by researchers at Chapman University.

The researchers asked a random sample of 1,541 adults to rate the level of fear for 88 different fear options across a variety of domains (like crime and natural disasters). Based on their findings, here were the top 10 fears for 2015:

- Corruption of government officials (58.0%)
- Cyber-terrorism (44.8%)
- Corporate tracking of personal information (44.6%)
- Terrorist attacks (44.4%)
- Government tracking of personal information (41.4%)
- Bio-warfare (40.9%)
- Identity theft (39.6%)
- Economic collapse

(39.2%)

- Running out of money in the future (37.4%)
- Credit card fraud (36.9%)

Last month, Gallup found that 75% of Americans said they believe corruption is widespread in the government (up from 66% percent in 2009).

Also last month, Gallup found that a record low 38% of Americans trust the government to handle domestic problems. And half of Americans think that the government is an immediate threat to us.

We at Washington's Blog are non-partisan and non-dogmatic. We don't believe that government is inherently good or inherently bad. We instead believe that each government has to be analyzed to determine its degree of honesty or corruption.

Unfortunately, it is T-H-O-R-O-U-G-H-L-Y documented that systemic corruption has destroyed America ... as admitted by politicians on both sides of the political aisle.

(Sadly, America is not alone ... governments worldwide are sliding down into mud pits of corruption.)

Postscript: Mainstream politicians and media are trying to browbeat Americans into trusting our government more. For example, Time Magazine tries to make fun of Americans who don't trust the government ... by comparing them to people who believe in aliens and the paranormal.

Likewise, Obama frequently chides Americans for distrusting their government.

But we Americans don't trust our government because our government has repeatedly demonstrated through its actions that it is corrupt and untrustworthy.

The Second Amendment Corner

Liberty's Line in the Sand

by Karl Denninger, Market-Ticker.Org

(Editor/GG: Wake up folks. Karl nails it. Be armed, be trained, be aware. Self defense is a right, not a privilege. Below is only the first half of Karl's article. The second half is about the necessity of being armed with the right self-preservation mindset. See the second part at the internet address at the bottom of the article.)

There are some very disturbing reports coming in about the Oregon shooting.

First off, it was clear within minutes that the shooter targeted Christians. How many people in our political system have been outraged that Christians were targeted for execution while others were either shot in the leg or not shot at all? I have heard exactly nothing from Obama or anyone else in political power in that regard. Why not?

Secondly, you've heard my screeds over the years about The Second Amendment. If you cannot argue facts and logic then get the hell off my lawn -- you're unwelcome around me. In matters of life and death there is exactly zero room for any sort of "squishy", "touchy-feely" or "feel good emotionalism."

Let me be clear: If you resort to emotion when life or death are on the line, you are going to die.

If you wish to entertain the debate here on firearms, gun control or anything of the sort then you are going to argue logic and facts. Here they are:

- The only thing that stops a bad guy with a gun is a good guy with a gun. You call the police when there is an active shooter and they show up with guns. They don't willy-wally around; they look for a tactical solution and if they get one that works they shoot the bad guy. That's exactly what happened yesterday.
- We cannot have cops everywhere, all the time. We are not only incapable of paying for it nobody would want to live in such a world. Even if a cop is just one minute away from anywhere in the United States (an utterly fanciful expectation even in a big city) a person with a bolt action rifle or single-shot pistol can shoot a dozen people (or more!) in that one minute. As a result the faster any good guy with a gun can engage the bad guy with a gun the lower the risk is of everyone in the vicinity winding up dead -- and the more good guys with guns and the closer they are to the situation the better the odds are for you and everyone else.

- Virtually all (something like all but three) mass-shootings in the last couple of decades have taken place in "gun-free zones." To those who want to further restrict firearms -- since there are literally over 100 million peaceful Americans that never have and never will commit a crime with a firearm, and that is an overwhelming majority of the population that owns guns, why don't we ban gun-free zones since virtually every single mass-shooting has taken place in one? There's an obvious reason that these homicidal maniacs don't shoot up a cop shop -- everyone there is armed and will shoot back! If our President -- or anyone on the left -- gave a good damn about human life they would both take down the "Nobody here that obeys the law is able to defend themselves, commit mass-murder here" signs.

- You have an unalienable right to life. The Constitution does not grant you that right because the government never possessed it in the first place and you cannot grant that which you do not first possess. The Founders understood this and we know that because they declared it to be so in the Declaration of Independence; that's why such a right is not in the Constitution, but the recognition of same, in the gravest extreme, is found in the Second Amendment.
- You are free to decide at any time to give up. You are not free to demand that others give up, including giving up their right to protect their own lives. Any infringement on the Second Amendment is a declaration of your disrespect for someone else's life and an indirect assault upon same. The only means by which that is legitimate is if and when you are willing to die in the place of those who you demand be disarmed. If you are not willing to take a bullet intended for me then you have no right to demand that I, in any situation that I find myself, be debarred the ability to effectively fight back against such an assault.

- A right cannot be conditioned upon a permit. By definition a permit or license gives you the ability to do something otherwise prohibited. If I have a right to defend my own life I need no permit to do so.
- For the above reasons people at large have the right to own, possess and carry upon their person arms suitable for defensive use without any damn permits. Period.

Greta Van Susteren Joins the Brady Bunch in Soliciting Civil War

by Mike Vanderboegh, Sipsy-StreetIrregulars.blogspot.com

(Editor/GG: Mike is right. Time to tell the libs what the deal is as common sense, the Constitution and reasoning have not, and will not, change these fascists' minds. Mike's "short answer" is all they need.)

Casus belli: a Latin expression meaning "an act or event that provokes or justifies going to war."

"Son, you don't poke a wolverine with a sharp stick unless you want your testicles ripped off."

-- Grandpa Vanderboegh

A Brady Buncher writes: "The late senator Daniel Patrick Moynihan once said that in the United States there was a 200-year supply of guns but a four-year supply of ammunition. So, what if we stopped worrying about the guns and instead focused on the bullets?"

This is a socialist siren song warbled by the elites, including FOX News contributor Greta Van Susteren, who proposed on the George Stephanopolous talking head show the other day: "The guns are there. If you really want to regulate you've got to be a little bit smarter, maybe regulate ammunition so that people can't use their guns. That's the smart thing."

"Smart thing"?!?!? First of all, as my Grandpa Vanderboegh used to say, "With 'friends' like these, who needs enemies?" Secondly, any effort to restrict ammunition as proposed is a faster way than firearms bans to arrive at the hellgate of civil war. As I have observed before, "Guns are easy. Logistics is hard." This is well understood by every shooter and liberty activist who has taken the time to think things through.

Most long-time readers recall when I told another collectivist puke:

I was once asked by an advocate of citizen disarmament what I thought of "gun control," and then, as I framed my answer, he added, "Give me the short answer."

"Okay," I answered, "if you try to take our firearms we will kill you."

I used to argue history, facts, and common sense with such as you, but gave it up as a bad job.

It boils down to that: "If you try to take our firearms (liberty, property, insert any other God-given, inalienable right), we will kill you."

The same goes for ammunition, Greta. I shouldn't have to explain that, but unprincipled prohibitionists such as you are nothing if not terminally stupid.

Bernie Sanders Calls for Ban on Semi-automatic Weapons

by Dave Urbanski, TheBlaze.com

(Editor/GG: Funny, Bernie didn't say this when he was a U.S. Senator from Vermont. If he did, he wouldn't have gotten elected once.)

BOULDER, Colo. (TheBlaze/AP)

Vermont Sen. Bernie Sanders on Saturday called for a ban on semiautomatic weapons in his second straight day of talking about an issue — guns — where he has sometimes deviated from the Democratic Party's consensus.

In a campaign appearance ahead of next week's Democratic presidential debate, Sanders cited two shootings Friday at universities in Arizona and Texas as well as last week's slayings at an Oregon community college.

"Instead of people yelling at each other, we have got to come together on common sense approaches which, in fact, the vast majority of the American people support," said Sanders, who represents a rural state with few gun laws. He added that there is "widespread support to ban semi-automatic assault weapons, guns which have no other purpose but to kill people."

Sanders supported such a ban along with universal background checks — another measure he called for on Saturday — in 2013, after the massacre at Connecticut's Sandy Hook Elementary School. But the self-described socialist has also voted to allow guns in national parks, to shield firearms manufacturers from liability for shootings and against a five-day waiting period for gun purchases. Many expect him to come under criticism for his record at the first debate on Tuesday.

The comments were similar to ones Sanders made in Tucson on Friday. Otherwise, he focused Saturday on familiar themes, decrying income inequality and the political clout of corporations and the wealthy.

“Enemies”: Clinton, O’Malley Attack America’s 100+ Million Gun Owners in Debate

by Bob Owens, BearingArms.com

(Editor/GG: Is it clear yet to you? 100 million American CITIZENS are the democrat’s ENEMIES! These are not your 1960’s or even 1970’s democrats. The dem party has been taken over by radical socialists and communists who want to destroy our country. Nobama was just an entree. Hitler, Stalin and Mao are next. Better get off your fat a patriots and get involved.)

Democrat frontrunner Hillary Clinton and former Maryland Governor Martin O’Malley made it very clear what they thought of the 100+ million gun owners in the United States as they attacked the largest civil rights group in the United States in the first Democrat debate last night.

During the debate, the candidates were asked a simple question.

“Which enemy are you most proud of?”

O’Malley, who has taken a radical stance on gun rights, stated simply, “The National Rifle Association.”

Clinton, who also intends to gut the Bill of Rights, added, “Well, in addition to the NRA, the health insurance companies, the drug companies...the Iranians.... probably the Republicans.”

The National Rifle Association, with a current membership of more than five million individuals, is the largest and oldest civil rights group in the United States. They focus primarily on firearms education, safety training, and promoting laws that protect the basic human right to armed self-defense.

The group also serves as a proxy for 100 million gun owners in progressive shorthand when Democrats attack the right to bear arms in word and deed.

When watching the debate or listening to the Democratic candidates talk about firearms laws, it has been very clear that when they mentioned “the NRA” or “the National Rifle Association,” they were expressing undisguised contempt for all gun owners, regardless of political leanings.

The top Democratic candidates have all taken radical positions in support of a de facto (and illegal) federal firearms registry with their call for “universal background checks” to track each and every firearms transaction, so that the federal government knows who has every gun.

These candidates also want an explicit ban on those firearms most explicitly suited for contemporary militia use, after labeling them “assault weapons.” They’ve been vague enough in their labeling criteria that they would conceivably ban nearly all semi-automatic (one shot per trigger pull) firearms that take detachable magazines, which accounts for almost all modern pistols and the best-selling rifles in the nation, as well as many popular shotguns.

Rifles of any kind are used to commit criminal homicides less than 290 times a year in a nation of 320 million.

They are not attempting to ban these firearms because they threaten the lives of law-abiding citizens, but explicitly because such arms form the backbone of the “well-regulated” (smoothly-functioning, i.e., well-armed and trained) citizen militia that the Founding Fathers insists we need to keep the federal government in check and act as a counterweight to future tyrants who would use the military against the people.

The Democrats’ candidates also universally supported a radical position overturning federal law to enable victims of violent crimes to sue firearms manufacturers for the misuse of their products in a flagrant attempt to drive manufacturers out of business. Their goal of undermining the Protection of Lawful Commerce in Arms Act (PLCAA) would allow frivolous lawsuits to cost the firearms and ammunition industries millions in court costs, and is directly analogous to allowing victims of drunk driving wrecks to sue automobile manufacturers.

We have never had such a radical, openly socialist slate of candidates run for the presidency in the history of the United States, openly and proudly attacking Bill of Rights as a cornerstone of their campaigns.

Be very concerned, my fellow Americans, as they aren’t disguising their intentions any longer.

The Democrat Party considers you their enemy, and they are quite vocally coming for your guns and your freedom.

grade from the National Rifle Association whereas Socialist Sen. Bernie Sanders has just a “D-“. Again, not the qualities that Coloradans are looking for in a presidential candidate.

It isn’t just gun control in which O’Malley is out of step with mainstream America. He’s also advocating for 100 percent clean energy by 2050. Here’s what he said:

t forward a plan — and I’m the date, I believe, in either party to to move America forward to a it clean electric grid by 2050.”

ing to guess that “clean energy” nism for Democrats’ crony cap-green energy. But, Colorado is t depends heavily on the oil and ry for jobs. O’Malley’s sentice, but is this really something listic and that makes sense for O’Malley’s stance was in sharp contrast with that of opponent Jim Webb, who claimed he is for an “all of the above” energy policy. Even Anderson Cooper questioned whether Webb’s policy was “out of step” with core Democratic voters who are screaming to punish traditional energy sources.

Hilariously, each candidate also identified college affordability as a top issue, yet failed to recognize the role of liberal policies in creating this dilemma.

If this debate showed voters anything, it’s that Democrats have no clue how destructive their policies truly are to the middle class and to economic growth. And, that lack of self awareness is why each is unfit for the presidency.

Obama’s America: Look Why This Black Church is being Fined

by Michele Hickford, Editor-in-Chief, AllenBWest.com

We already know the left has a problem with all those bitter folks who cling to their guns and religion – code words for white Christians. We reported yesterday about the high school football coach who could very well lose his job for praying on the 50-yard-line before each game.

But, it appears the assault on Christianity in this nation isn’t a “whites only” policy. A church in Oakland, California, has been threatened with a nuisance fee of $3,500 and daily fines of $500 – for what?

Singing.

Yes, while most people who love Gospel music call it “the joyful noise,” apparently folks in Oakland just hear it as...noise.

As KPIX 5 reports, the City of Oakland sent a letter to Pleasant Grove Baptist Church in West Oakland with details of the supposed infraction and resulting fines and saying “...this activity (choir practice) may constitute a public nuisance due to its impact to the use and quiet enjoyment of the surrounding community’s property.”

Church pastors met this week to discuss the issue and said the real problem is gentrification of the neighborhood. The church is located amidst a neighborhood, full of old Victorians, which is being purchased by affluent tech workers.

“The pastors said all churches are threatened by the city’s action and they plan to fight it. Pastors are also thinking about organizing outdoor services throughout Oakland so everyone can enjoy the joyful noise that much more.

For its part, the church said it will continue with choir practice on Thursday.”

Do #ChristianBlackLivesMatter? Remember, the Obama administration didn’t lift a finger to help Sudanese Christian Meriam Ibrahim escape her captivity and death sentence – even though her two children were American citizens.

You’d think she would have hit all the buttons: black, immigrant, refugee...but nope.

No, black Christian lives only matter if they can be used to push an ideological agenda, as in the South Carolina tragedy. Otherwise, no. And please keep the noise down.

Politics & The Bible

From Pastor Jim

Jim Modlish has been in the ministry 49 years, pastoring churches large and small from upstate New York to western Washington. He holds a doctorate in theology, but frequently states: "I have education, but I got over it."

Southern Colorado natives, Jim and his wife, Linda, were happy to return to their home state in 2006. They started the Huerfano Community Bible Church in Walsenburg seven years ago, and that work has experienced excellent growth and the blessings of God. Pastor Modlish believes the Bible is the greatest political science textbook on earth, and that all current events should be examined under the searchlight of Scripture. All scripture taken from King James Version.

Gun Control Insanity

Some liberals have once again suffered extreme anxiety attacks over Ben Carson's statement concerning the Jews and the Holocaust. It seems that the good doctor has resorted to common sense in suggesting that if the Jews had been armed, the Nazis' effort of genocide might have been at least somewhat diminished. The mainstream media continues to operate under the policy of never sacrificing their agenda for "genius dressed in its working clothes." (Emerson)

Democrats love to employ instances of abusive treatment of Native Americans, failing to acknowledge that the majority of egregious conduct has been at the hands of a government that the Left desires to expand. The Sand Creek Massacre is a classic example. On November 29, 1864, a 700-man force of the Colorado Territory militia under the command of Colonel John M. Chivington attacked a peaceful village of Cheyenne and Arapaho. Two months previous Chief Black Kettle had attended a peace parley in Denver and had been advised to fly an American flag over his village with a white flag below it to show he was friendly and forestall any attack by U.S. forces. In spite of compliance the army assaulted the village killing and horribly mutilating an estimated 163, two-thirds of which were women and children. Is it reasonable to assume that if the Indians had been forewarned and equipped with anything beyond primitive weapons, the outcome may have been different?

The explanation is well illustrated in the Battle of the Little Big Horn on June 25-26, 1876. The Lakota, comprised of the Northern Cheyenne and Arapaho, were armed and prepared to meet George Armstrong Custer and 700 men of the U.S. 7th Cavalry. Five of twelve companies were annihilated leaving 268 dead and 55 injured. Crazy Horse was not so crazy...he had learned to never trust a government that attempted to disarm it citizens. Political expediency unveils the mystery of why so many liberals scoff at the idea of finding and documenting eleven million illegals (citing the impossibility of such a task) but never wince when offered the possibility of rounding up 300 million guns.

Ancient Israel exhibited the same spiritual DNA of modern America in its proclivity to embrace diversity. They frequently suffered spasms of political correctness by embracing the gods and culture of the surrounding pagan people. Everyone seemed happy with the arrangement except God. In an effort to gain His people's attention, The Lord allowed Israel's "new friends" to become their newest taskmasters. After several years of total misery and subjugation, Israel cried out to God seeking relief from their oppressors. When a spirit of genuine revival developed, the Lord responded with a positive solution. The Old Testament reveals this cycle being repeated many times.

From a human standpoint, one cannot help but wonder how the persecutors maintained the brutal tyranny. The answer is found in the tactics of Israel's perennial enemy, the Philistines. "Now there was no smith found throughout all the land of Israel: for the Philistines said, Lest the Hebrews make them swords or spears." (I Samuel 13:19) The following verses indicate that the Jews were so deprived of metallic material that they had to depend on the Philistines to sharpen their farm implements. Of course, that was an insidious way to document the whereabouts of any object that could have been fabricated into a weapon.

This shows the results of "gun control," whether on a local or national level. All gun control laws are set up by governments to protect their agents who intend to take everything you have. In seven government genocides (1917-2000), resulting in the deaths of 55 million unarmed men, women, and children, the killers did exactly the same thing the same way. The original Nazi weapons law (March 18, 1938) is simply a page removed from the book of ancient Philistines. History has yet to fully record the atrocities of the last fifteen years, but one can be sure that Muslim terrorists are doing everything possible to eliminate the weapons of their adversaries. All gun control laws are for the purpose of protecting two groups of people: killers and robbers. If history demonstrates anything, it's that this class of people are governmental bureaucrats more often than not.

When Hitler came into power, Einstein shook the dust of Germany from his feet. The Nazis made characteristic gestures of farewell to their greatest scientist---they turned him out of the Academy of Sciences, seized his sailboat and other personal property, and confiscated his bank account. As a crowning irony, they solemnly searched his house for arms.

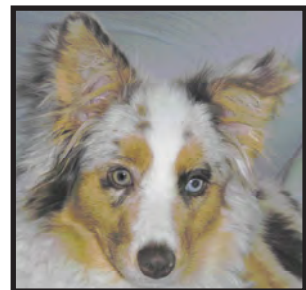

A Sheepdog Barks!

A few thoughts on the first Democrat Debate. It was clear that the fix was in. Do No Harm to Hillary. And that was from the DNC and CNN both. Anderson Cooper pretended to be tough but didn't ask any questions on the crumbling world that HilLIARY helped shape, didn't drill down on the real substance of the email scandal, and didn't ask any tough follow-up questions when she side-stepped answering. He even let her off the hook on the BLM-ALM question from a citizen by changing it to a question on Obama. What a different type of debate than the one CNN threw at the Republicans. The two candidates that did answer the question about whether Black Lives Matter OR All Lives Matter, both said Black Lives Matter. O'Malley who had previously apologized in public for saying ALL lives matter and Sanders who had his rally microphones ripped out of his hands by two black women who then took over his rally. Only Jim Webb said ALL lives matter. He is clearly in the wrong party. Most of his comments were aligned with conservative principles. He made more sense than any of the others, but he is done - stick a fork in him. Lincoln Chaffee was so embarrassing he doesn't deserve comment. He should do himself a favor and just disappear. The list of "freebies" they created (mostly Bernie & Hillary) is so long and so absurd I don't know how anyone in America, even a LPSD, could support them. It would not be possible to accomplish that list even in Sweden, Denmark or Norway. Get a life. Do some 6th grade arithmetic and not the Common Core kind. WOOF! Clinton is clearly the most "evolved" candidate in America. Evolved is the new LPSD word for "flip-flopping pandering." HilLIARY has "evolved" on things like standing against the NRA, suing gun manufacturers, homosexual marriage, the XL Keystone Pipeline, and the Pacific Trade Agreement. She's even changed her memory on the Iraq war, forgetting completely that she said there were weapons of mass destruction there and voting to authorize war. What one won't do to win a Primary? Unless Clinton goes down on her email/server crimes, she will be the Democrat's nominee. That has already been decided. This is a woman that says she can get things done in Washington and then says "The Republicans" are among her greatest and favorite leading enemies. She lumped them in with terrorists. She also vigorously promoted and supported Planned Parenthood. What a disaster for America. Trump, in his worst day in office, would be better than Obama or any of these LPSD candidates. WOOF! What might even be worse than these "socialist democrats" trying to "out give" each other was their statements about destroying Capitalism. Do they not understand what made this country strong and powerful and provided for the greatest standard of living in the world? Sadly, after the debate, the majority of a registered-democrat focus group raised their hands when asked if they believed Socialism was better than Capitalism. That kind of thinking will destroy us. Clearly not a good sign for the future of America! Mommas, please don't let your babies grow up to be LPSDs. WOOF!

Take a look at some of these "Only In A Liberal Progressive America" stories:

OIALPA: Comic Book World, U.S.A. Say it ain't so, Captain America. A "new" Captain America (a black guy) is now going to stand up against a "new" bad guy, The Supreme Serpent (a white guy) who is a Tea Party type, Constitution-loving villain that opposes things like illegal immigration and promotes other "conservative" values. That's right; the New Captain America is a LPSD who believes in open borders rather than the rule of law. Parents Beware. WOOF!

OIALPA: New York City, New York. Another stupid progressive act! Mayor de Blasio is going to remove the George Washington portrait from the Mayor's residence because "George" doesn't represent diversity enough. Really? The Father of our Country! Almost enough outward anti-American behavior to justify recall! Add some portraits if you must. There is no reason to disrespect the first President of the United States. WOOF!

OIALPA: Minnesota. Some elementary schools in Minnesota have hired "Recess Consultants." What in the world is going on? How did we all grow up in America for over 200 years without "help?" What would they do you might ask? We are told they will "coach" the kids on how to play. Maybe this is necessary in this "electronic" age. If so, it's just another nail in the "we are doomed" coffin. We suspect they will be there to make sure kids don't act like kids. Most of their coaching would probably go like this - "You can't do that, or that, or that either." The pulling of pigtailed led to many a great romance. Good Grief. Just let kids be kids. The more free-style recess the better. The less adult oversight the better! WOOF!

Sanctuary Cities Ignore ICE Orders and Free 9,295 Criminal Illegal Aliens!

by Judicial Watch,
JudialWatch.Org

(Editor/GG: Let's look at the inside story here. Some republicans are proposing legislation that will "punish" these cities for not informing ICE that they are about to release an illegal alien criminal. This, folks, is all show and no go. The bill will go nowhere and even if it did, No-bama would veto it. It is a classic case of failure theatre on the part of the republicans. The ONLY tool they HAD was the budget and they gave nobama and the libs EVERY DOLLAR THEY WANTED for EVERY FREAKING CORRUPT federal department, program and slush fund Dems wished for and defunded our military in the process! It's not that the RINO's don't have the guts to actually confront this evil destroying our country - they DON'T WANT TO. It would upset the party they have thrown for themselves the last 50 years with your taxes and our liberty and freedom. It is time for a change, folks.)

As the U.S. Senate considers a bill to slash funding for local governments that protect violent illegal immigrants, a new study reveals that hundreds of sanctuary cities nationwide released thousands of criminal aliens from jail rather than turn them over to federal authorities for deportation.

This proves that legislation to crack down on jurisdictions that obstruct enforcement of federal immigration law is long overdue. In fact, the measure was inspired by the summer murder of a San Francisco woman by an illegal immigrant with seven felony convictions and five deportation orders. Because San Francisco is an illegal alien sanctuary, local law enforcement officials don't notify the feds about detainees who should be deported. Federal lawmakers want to send those municipalities a message, says the senator that introduced the measure, Stop Sanctuary Policies and Protect Americans Act.

If it passes, federal funding will be withheld from sanctuary states or cities that fail to comply with Department of Homeland Security (DHS) issued detainer requests for illegal aliens. The money would be redirected to states and localities that follow the law. "There is absolutely no reason that any U.S. city should be allowed to ignore our nation's immigration laws and provide a safe harbor for illegal immigrants," said Louisiana Senator David Vitter, in a statement introducing the measure this month. Illegal immigrants have committed other murders and terrible acts of violence across the U.S. since the San Francisco incident that drew national attention, Vitter said.

That's because in less than a year 340 sanctuary cities, counties, and states around the U.S. released 9,295 alien offenders that Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) was seeking to deport. More than half had significant prior criminal histories and 600 were released at least twice by jurisdictions that protect criminal aliens from deportation by refusing to comply with ICE detainers. The figures were made public recently by the Center for Immigration Studies (CIS), a nonprofit dedicated to researching the consequences of legal and illegal immigration into the United States.

Of the illegal immigrants released into unsuspecting communities, 58% had prior felony charges or convictions and 37% had serious prior misdemeanor charges, the CIS probe found. An astounding 2,320 of the freed offenders were subsequently arrested within the eight-month time period studied for new crimes. Here's an enraging example included in the CIS document: Victor Aureliano Hernandez Ramirez, arrested in July 2015 for raping and bludgeoning a 64-year-old California woman who died eight days later. Ramirez had been arrested for battery a year earlier but the county sheriff blew off an ICE detainer that would have deported him in accordance with California's state sanctuary law.

Once these criminal illegal aliens are freed by sanctuary cities, ICE has difficulty tracking them down, according to records obtained for the study. As of last year, 6,460 (69%) were still at large. Of those still at large, 1,377 (20%) had another criminal arrest following the one that resulted in the original ICE detainer. This is why a violent criminal, Francisco Javier Chavez, is on the loose. In August 2015 he was arrested for beating his girlfriend's 2-year-old daughter and, despite an extensive criminal record that includes felony drug and drunk-driving convictions, a California sheriff's department ignored an ICE detainer and released him.

Colorado: 80,000 Health Plans at Risk as Coop Loses Funding

by ColoradoPeakPolitics.com

(Editor/GG: As predicted. Obamacare's health insurance "co-ops" are going bankrupt all over the country leaving hundreds of thousands of people without health insurance. Socialism doesn't work, folks. Especially when they run out of other people's money. And, hey, Colorado Democrat U.S. Senator Bennet, thanks for voting for Obamacare and destroying our healthcare system. I see you are up for re-election next year.....)

A feature story on the state's health co-op by Colorado Public Radio appeared to be a fluff and buff job but accidentally contained some eyebrow-raising information.

Turns out that federal funding has dried up for Colorado HealthOP, Colorado's non-profit cooperative, to the tune of $12 million.

The co-op, which somehow "lost" $23 million last year, claims the feds repeatedly promised a 100-percent payment. However, Julia Hutchins, CEO of Colorado HealthOP, said they were informed last week that Uncle Sam will only fork over less than 13 percent of the money requested.

In the HealthOP's view, the government essentially re-neged on a promise. In a statement, Department of Health and Human Services Press Secretary Ben Wakana said the agency recognizes that low payments for some insurers "may raise concerns," and not all insurance startups "will succeed." Hutchins said without the $12 million it was expecting it may be one of those casualties.

The government will essentially rip the Band-Aids off the scabs of 80,000 Coloradans who joined the co-op, because Obamacare was not successful, the bureaucrat said.

The timing couldn't be worse for U.S. Sen. Michael Bennet, who voted for Obamacare and is up for re-election.

Déjà vu, anyone?

When 240,000 Coloradans lost their health insurance during former Sen. Mark Udall's failed reelection campaign, he tried to bully state officials to cover-up the debacle.

But Todd Shepherd at Complete Colorado broke the story and it was all downhill for Udall after that and it cost Udall the election.

Like we said, the timing couldn't be worse for Bennet.

Silver Cliff Mischief, Felony, or Both? Do you have info that would help?

by Fred Hernandez

Early on a morning late last week an alert employee noted the unmistakable scent of gas in the air and alerted restaurant owner Willie Quinney. Upon checking the propane tank in back of his establishment, the Silver Cliff Mountain Inn, he spotted the tell-tale signs of a purposely destroyed gauge, valve, and feeder line.

Calling on his supplier, Ludvig Propane, who immediately responded, it was confirmed that the tank equipment had been viciously tampered with and broken with the use of tools. This act was reported to the Sheriff's Office who is now investigating what is being considered a crime. Not only were the perpetrators impeding a persons right to make a living, they had endangered themselves, property, and potentially the lives of innocent citizens. The Sheriff's Office is taking this investigation very seriously and has vowed to apprehend the culprits and prosecute those responsible to the fullest extent allowed by the law.

If anyone has information regarding this dastardly act, please contact the Sheriff's Office at 719-783-2270 or the TIP LINE at 719-783-2847.
